From Rick Schill:

A brief write-up from the event at Albemarle. Add your comments if you'd like unless you've already done so on some of the great photographs already posted. Do check them out as well!

Thirty-five (35) riders showed up at the Hensley's on Sunday, some traveling from as far away as Florida. Weather was typical for June in NC; a bit warm and humid. It was nice of the afternoon showers to hold off until the end of the awards' presentation. A canopy of shade trees helped the riders and many spectators avoid the day's heat; sections and loop were pretty much in the shade. Reworked stadium sections and many new section areas were opened up along the 1-mile loop. It was so well groomed you felt as if you were on a walk in the park. Traction throughout the day was right where it needed to be. Many sections rode easier than they looked.

Shout out to Trialsmasters Alan and Jeff Hensley, and Jeff's wonderful wife Brandi, for hosting a great event.
