From Rick Schill:

Coyote Run aka Rural Retreat

Thirty-two (32) riders competed up at the picturesque farm of Sally Russell on Sunday. It was great to see so many STRA riders show up as well. Weather was typical summer in the Virginia mountains and provided a break from the heat at lower elevations. Both Saturday and Sunday saw serious afternoon showers. Even with the rain, traction seemed to be there for those that waited. A combination of stadium and natural terrain made for a variety of sections with something sure to please everybody. You do not get too many opportunities at CVOTC events for serious hill climbs; David provided a dandy in Section 4. Smart of David to leave the boundary tape on the ground to allow riders an escape route with disrupting the tape.

Shout out to Trialsmasters David Lawson and his gracious sister Sally for hosting another great event in the mountains of Virginia. For the best write-up possible, add your comments and pictures to the post!
